A unique maritime ecosystem of port logistics, offshore operations, superyacht- and shipbuilding, maintenance, transshipment, business services, renowned universities, test- and prototype facilities, startup accelerators and investment funds.

Rotterdam is ready to support your business or investment, from start-up to multinational. Shaping the sustainable maritime future together.

With over 700 years of successful experience in the international trade and shipping industries, the greater Rotterdam area is well-positioned to meet all your port, maritime and offshore needs.

Access granted

Sharing knowledge, maritime business services, digitalisation, research & development, finding space to work, maintenance, logistics, infrastructure, shipyards, innovation, and human capital, it's here, waiting for your idea to mature, your company to establish itself, your investment to earn good returns.

Whether you are looking to gain access to the European market, buy or build products or acquire knowledge in the fields of maritime technology, energy transition, digitalisation, innovation, water management or engineering, this region has everything to reach your goals.

Connect now

Rotterdam Maritime Capital of Europe (RMCoe) is a collaborative effort of the City of Rotterdam, Drechtsteden, Port of Rotterdam, Deal Drechtsteden and Rotterdam Partners. We connect you with accelerators, terminals, shipowners, shipbuilders, suppliers, service providers, universities, and government agencies. Use our network to develop your own.

Sustainable solutions

We are working together to stimulate zero-emission shipping that will ensure a sustainable and circular economy. Rotterdam and its (inter)national partners offer the infrastructure to the make energy transition happen.

Trust

The Netherlands, and especially the Rotterdam region, are known for their extensive maritime knowledge, accessible entrepreneurial network, no-nonsense approach and for going above and beyond to produce top quality maritime products and services that can help to support and grow your maritime business. This is how we build trust.

Maritime Business Services

Rotterdam is also home to a large concentration of companies active in the maritime business services sector. Rotterdam has a specialised Maritime Chamber and arbitration institutes that handle shipping and trade disputes in Dutch, English, or German.
